

Pearson Hall Meeting Minutes

August 31, 2008

Okay, first off on a serious note, let me just say that I'm very disappointed in some of the responses that I got to the question on the sign-in sheet. It's very clear that many of you do not take a serious attitude to the problem of pornography in this hall, as can be seen by the immature nature of your responses. Apparently, the same problems that we had last year have yet to be remedied. But on a lighter note, that douche bag Jon Samp got all of his stickers like the little suck up that he is. Way to go, ass baton.

GK

- Props to Chris Paradies for his great work during Hawk Week with the Schol Hall Olympics.
- Aric fixed his J-Key.
- KU has new cups, which we stole and made ours.
- Don't miss meetings. The dates have been posted long in advance, so you have no excuse not to plan around them.
- Chris Paradies got an OTM. Yet somehow, life goes on.

This person doesn't live here

- Fill out the gender surveys by October to prove your masculinity to the world.

Brian (ResNet)

- There has been a lot of pornography being viewed by residents of this hall.
- Pornography isn't technically prohibited, but we don't like to tolerate it here in Pearson.
- If you think you have a pornography addiction, there are many sources you can use to try to solve your problem. Remember this acronym: Porn Is Lame, Fool. PILF.
- There's nothing funny here. We have high moral standards in Pearson, and we want to uphold them at all times. Respect what this hall and the people who live in it stand for.

Kye, Bringer of Darkness and Enemy of All Free Peoples of the Earth

- Once again, he explained the intricacies of his dark arts he calls "J-Boards." If you screw up a shift once, Gibson gives you a heated and threatening warning, and if you screw it up again, he J-Boards you. You are then summoned before Kye's acolytes to plead your innocence, of which Kye will hear nothing.
- If you get 3 J-Boards during the course of the entire year (not just one semester), you have to talk to Shaun. If you get 4, you have to talk to Justin. If you get 5, you're a dumbass, and you become eligible to be kicked out of the hall.
- J-Boards are a good way to get involved in the hall and to become his unfeeling servant to carry out his evil tasks upon all of humanity.
- He's coming for Garrett Kelly. Updates later.

Social Rebellion of the Masses

- They listed off some social events listed below.
- They are planning a couple of game nights with Sellards and Miller, and also a British-themed dance sometime.

Sports Chairs, the One-Two punch of douchebagery

- Paul designed some shitty shirts that just kind of make you sad.
- Sign up to play sports.
- We'll be "playing sand volleyball" with Sellards, which I guess is the street term for it nowadays.

Fuck this guy

- He got us dong bags to cover our gravy pipes when we're pumping the happy hole.
- Don't waste the condoms. If we have to get more than two refills, we have to listen to old bitter people tell us how sex is bad.

Justin the Necromancer

- He wants your blood. All of it.
- Tell him if you donate blood. It counts as community service.

Chris "Dolla Dolla Bill-ya" Paradies

- We only have $1000 in our budget since Housing has cut off our supply line.
- Tell him what magazines you want to read.

Harry

- There is a Food Board Meeting tomorrow night at 9 PM. Recipes are due Tuesday night at 10 PM, or else Gibson gets an excuse to J-Board you.
- The fridge in the pantry is for unopened packages. If you want lunchmeat or cheese, check the kitchen refrigerator first, and then get it out of the pantry only if there's none in the kitchen.
- You can sign up for a save plate if you miss a meal. You can get a permanent save plate if you miss a meal the same day every week, or a temporary save plate if you miss a meal for a single occasion. Sign up for save plates on the side of the kitchen refrigerator, but eat it if you do. They're fair game after 24 hours. Cooks get J-Boarded if they forget to make the save plates.
- Cooks need to leave an extra can for leftover grease so that Harry can drink it later.
- New cooks and waiters are required to attend a Food Safety meeting so that they know that shitting in the pans is unsanitary. These meetings are on September 10 and 15 at 7:30 PM in Alderson Auditorium at the Kansas Union.
- You're welcome to cook for yourself outside of a meal, but be sure not to use ingredients for a planned meal. If you're unsure, just ask.
- There's a food request form on the door to the pantry. If you want a tasty treat, write it down. If Harry doesn't comply, just coerce him with violence. Works every time.
- Turn off the lights in rooms that aren't being used, with the exception of the kitchen. We need to save power so that both of the TVs in GVG and Steele's room can work.
- He wants pictures of everyone for the hall roster that he can mail in to Playgirl.

I love Rachel more than he does

- The permanent shifts have been posted on the ice machine in the dining room. Sunday shifts have also been posted.
- If you miss your shift, you get J-Boarded. If you are found responsible, you are assigned a sanction shift, which usually has something to do with sexual favors.
- It's okay to swap shifts, but be sure to notify him if you do.
- Clean up your dishes, and put them on the correct dish racks.
- Always put food in tupperware in the refrigerator.
- Oscar needs to get his shit out of the hallway.
- Quiet hours start at 11 PM Sunday through Thursday, and 1 AM on Friday and Saturday. Usually, an announcement will commence when Quiet Hours are about to begin. There are also 24 hour Courtesy Hours, which means that when Oscar is playing Rock Band you can go to his room and tell him to shut the fuck up.
- The recycling bin for #2 plastic bottles has been moved from under the cereal table to over by the doorway near the stairs.
- Close the freezer doors. Close the bread bags. Close your legs.
- Tosin needs to shut off his alarm when it goes off. Proctor is allowed to enter your room if it's a nuisance.

- Sign and turn in your Room Condition Reports and your Roommate Contracts.
- Don't hoard cups.
- If there is a fire alarm, leave the building. If you don't, you might not only die, but also could get written up and even arrested. Burning to death is illegal in these parts.

His office is here, but that's about it

- He's Shaun. You've probably seen him about twice this year. But he does live here, remember that much.
- He and Gibson check the rooms during fire drills to make sure everybody leaves building. That means that if there's a fire drill you should get the fuck out. Kind of like you would if there was a real fire.
- He wants to meet with the newmen to plan their future and maybe try to have them be his friends.
- There is a fire safety meeting on September 22 at 7 PM in Stevenson rather than Pearson. Surprised?
- A crate of alcohol from last year was found stored in the kitchen ceiling. I suppose I should discuss how that's bad, but you have to admit, that's dedication.
- The hall policies are listed online, which saves him having to explain them to us in person.

Proctor wants more of the spotlight

- Getting caught for excessive alcohol use can be worse than an IR. Housing has been known to kick lots of people out of the Schol Halls for breaking the major rules. Stevenson, anyone? Or am I not supposed to talk about that?
- If you choose to break policy, don't screw over the other people who live here.
- No booze, no drugs, fireworks, no open flame, no happiness, and don't go up the fire escape. If we get fined for having the fire escape doors propped open, the money will be taken from the social budget.

The Acolytes of Kye Barker arise

Justin Smith	Spencer Seman	Wesley Renard
Jahmal Clemons	Steele Reynolds	Tosin Morohunfola

WITH THE SUMMONING OF HIS DARKEST SERVANTS, KYE BARKER PREPARES TO MAKE HIS WAR.

THINGS TO PONDER (NOW IN COLOR)

Why exactly are GVGs tits so lush?

Who would win the ROTC battle royal?

Why is Tosin on the third floor now? What have we done?
