

Pearson Hall Meeting Minutes

October 12, 2008

My day is coming. Regardless of what you all might say, the final battle between me and Scott Peters draws near, and the fate of all shall be decided in one last epic struggle. Apparently, only Chris Sommer thinks that I can come out of this fight victorious, and that taint rattler Jon Samp said that he wants to be me when he grows up. I hate that kid.

Leader of the Acolytes, Bringer of doom, I hate him SO much

- He is not big. Not now, not ever.
- Monday Night Noodle Fights return, despite the fact they might not be on Mondays. Start thinking of character ideas, unless you already have a badass character like the Dairy Master. There will be an informational meeting next Sunday at 7 PM.

Justinian the Conqueror

- If you have any community service to log, do it tonight. See, if there was no 24-hour guarantee, you would not have been reminded of this in time. I'll go ahead and accept your thanks now.
- There will be an event for the Humane Society sometime after Fall Break. He'll send out an e-mail with more information.
- You can help young people vote in a simulated election on election day.
- If you want to tell him about community service hours, he prefers that you e-mail him so that he doesn't have to see your face.

Aaron Whatever

- There are 9 guys signed up for the camping group. Now why would so few people want to be part of a group that Aaron is in?
- You need to have the sports combo in order to be eligible to join the group, and then you must undergo a rigorous passage of hazing in order to be accepted.
- If you want to go to football games with the Pearson group, remember to sign up on the sheet that Aaron always reminds us about via e-mails that nobody cares enough about to read.
- Give all extra tickets to Paul.

Jeff (Chris wasn't here, but nobody really noticed)

- Thanks to all for helping with the crappy British party. He feels bad that it sucked so hardcore, but maybe next time he and Chris will give everyone a little more than a day's notice.
- There will be another episode of "Don't Say Anything." For more details, just ask Kye.
- We'll be hosting Maggie and Reiger for Breakfast Schmeakfast. Kevin has a sweet idea for entertainment involving Harry, but if you have any other ideas let him know.
- Want to play paintball with Stephenson? Me neither.
- Pictures for this year's Men of Pearson calendar will be taken in the next two weeks. Start thinking of provocative and erotic poses for pictures that your parents will see.

Holy shit he said something

- There will be an alumni event on the 24th at 7 PM at the Crawford Community Center. Sounds exciting, right?
- The letters have already been sent, so no worries about making up excuses not to help him.
- He plans on designing a poster to represent Pearson at the event, but it will probably suck if nobody helps him with it.
- There will be tour guides needed to show people around Pearson without letting them see Nerdles.

One day I will crush him, and then you shall all understand

- He handed around flyers that, disappointingly, were not obscene.

- We have 8 packets of condoms left to last us through the winter before we have to turn to paper towels and masking tape.
- Enjoy yourself, and ALWAYS DOUBLE-BAG IT.

Paul really wants to take you down (and hump the air while doing so)

- Pearson will be playing dodge ball, which is sure to bring back great memories of middle school for us all. Signup starts on the 17th.
- He's working on the T-shirt thing. Apparently, he sent an e-mail to Jenna Wells at Sunflower Marketing asking her if she was free on Friday, but then she said no so he called her cell phone but he only got her voice mail so he left a very sensual and heartfelt message expressing his deep and undying passion for the T-shirt order but now she never returns his calls. Give him another couple of weeks to work his magic.
- The members of the Flag Football team received hoodies that make us all look like Jawas.

He looks beautiful when he sleeps at night, the rise and fall of his chest as he breathes so peacefully...

- Leave the new issues of Time and The Economist on the table in the foyer. If you take older issues to your room, remember to bring them back. If you take any issues of Cravin' Asians to your room, just go ahead and keep it.

GK then proceeded to burn an effigy of Kurtis for parking his motorcycle in spots meant for cars. If he parks his motorcycle in the special motorcycle space by Battenfeld, he might not incur the bloodlust of his fellow residents.

Harry Series I, Book I, Volume I, Part I, Chapter I - History

- He wants shirtless pictures of all the newmen except for Jason. Lose the fat rolls, maybe he'll change his mind.
- Remember to give out OTMs for people who do a good job in the hall.

Harry Series I, Book I, Volume I, Part I, Chapter II - Food

- Cooks need to do these things so that he won't kill them with his mind:
 - Use what you order for a meal. If not, it wastes food and money that could be spent on building the Rocket Ark.
 - If you know that fewer people will be eating a meal, use less food. It's basic physics.
 - Be careful with the knives. Perhaps Scott should get off his ass and put a first aid kit in the kitchen.
- P&P needs to recycle the empty bottles of detergent instead of leaving them for Harry to take care of (although it does seem to be a system that works).
- It's cool for guests to eat food from our pantry, but it's not cool to let them steal it. Always be with your guests so that you can keep their kleptomania in check.

RACHEL SHOULD HAVE BEEN MINE

- There will be temp shifts this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Did he stop at that? No, there is more for him to say!
 - The hall will be open over fall break even though there are no classes. This gives us precious time to study.
 - Credits were distributed to each person depending on how much of their shift they have already done this week.
 - There will be regular Sunday shifts. Yeah, I think it's pretty stupid too.
 - Don't go into the negatives, or else he'll get all pissy.
- People have been lazy with their shifts, which is why we get counted down in the walkthroughs. What have we been doing wrong? GLAD YOU ASKED.
 - H&H needs to scrub the sinks and toilets better.
 - Dishes needs to clean the counters, dry all the dishes and refill the silverware tray with the blue liquid of healing.
 - P&P needs to clean the counters and recycle the empty detergent bottles just like Harry said.

- Waiters need to put away all of the food in tupperware containers. Things like cookies can be left out, but still need to be put in tupperware. Also remember to clean the milk cow.
- Morning Kitchen needs to also clean the milk cow as well as the cereal table.
- Victor needs to clean the soap residue off of the shower stall walls like I do.
- If you have to mop the floor, sweep it first. This involves moving a broom back and forth enough times until Gibson finally shuts the fuck up.
- He threatened us with J-Boards if we don't please him.
- Oscar needs to stop leaving his shit EVERYWHERE. Gibson will only ask you nicely to move it once. After that, it's J-Boards out the ass.

Oh good, he's still talking

- If you use dishes between meals, scrub them well so that I don't have to keep writing about it. If not, then we'll lose food privileges and I'll have to write about that.
- Don't hoard cups in your room unless you're the proctor and your fiancée can come over and leave them sitting around. Yeah, blame it on her, great story ass-taint.
- Get off your fat asses and help with the food shipments on Friday.
- We're getting a card swipe for the front and back doors. This will replace the door code, and will be a major pain in the ass. After Fall Break, Stephenson will get a card swipe, and then they're coming for us. We must unite and stop them at all costs.
- Sign up for No Shave November. Last year Pearson raised $650 for Breast Cancer research, and Gibson wants even more people to do it this year. If you shave before the month is over, you will be ridiculed. Oh yes, you will be ridiculed.

GK – Maybe those letters could be short for something else? Genitals K...K...I got nothing

- Kurtis Myers and John Bergman are the chosen ones who get to be the Pearson representatives during Homecoming week.
- We'll be paired up with Maggie, and we get to decorate their hall with the theme of Breast Cancer Awareness. At some point, we'll be able to buy T-shirts that say "Save the Ta-Tas" for $7.
- If we win the most Homecoming events, we get a pizza party and hand jobs.

Shaun – If he's never here, how am I supposed to think of something funny? Don't answer that, I'm trying

- I.T.S. is digging for treasure in our front yard, so there is only one path into the front door right now. They'll be done with our front yard in about a week, but the whole Wi-Fi and cable project probably won't be done until January.
- He and another SHD are putting together a political event near the end of the month that probably nobody will go to.
- Sneak Peek will be on November 8th, which is where we get to terrify high school students considering moving into the Schol Halls.

THINGS TO PONDER (NOW WITH BUTTS)

Have you been to La Paz, Bolivia? HAVE YOU BEEN TO LA PAZ, BOLIVIA?

Will Monday Night Noodle Fights return to their former glory, or fall into the black abyss of forgotten lore?

How many STDs has Aric given us all? I itch in places that I don't think should itch...

I am not the Chomp Champion. That is not a question. It is a fact.
